

MINAMATA ONLINE

SEASON 3 - 2022
PHASE I

HOW MERCURY SCIENCE DRIVES POLICY TOWARDS MERCURY FREE ASGM

SPEAKERS

The Secretariat of the Minamata Convention co-organize with the International Conference on Mercury as a Global Pollutant (ICMGP) a series of Minamata Online sessions. The authors of four ICMGP synthesis papers, to be published in early 2023, will present on key topics of mercury science. The first of these four sessions will focus on artisanal and small-scale gold mining - How mercury science can drive policy towards mercury-free ASGM.

William Pan, Duke University

Alex Pfaff, Duke University

Pontsho Twala, University of Witwatersrand

Malgorzata Stylo, UN Environment Programme

Dominique Bally, African Center For Environmental Health

Eisaku Toda, Secretariat of the Minamata Convention

WEDNESDAY
2 NOVEMBER 2022

13H00-14H30 CET

Please register for the WebEx session using the links above.

More about Minamata Online

Check the list of events

MINAMATA ONLINE	WEDNESDAY 6 OCTOBER	THURSDAY 11 OCTOBER	WEDNESDAY 17 OCTOBER	OCTOBER
SEASON 3 - 2022 PHASE I	09:00 - 17:00 Technical guidelines on mercury waste management	09:00 - 16:00 Briefing on the amended Annex A of the Convention	13:00 - 16:00 Institution for Comments to the Draft Reporting Guidance	THE TIC Consultation with civil society on gender action plan (closed)
CIP-5 PREPARATION
IMPLEMENTATION REVIEW AND SUPPORT
MERCURY SCIENCE
UN Environment Programme
MINAMATA CONVENTION ON MERCURY
Tentative calendar. Geneva time. Last update: 28 September 2022
	WEDNESDAY 2 NOVEMBER 13:00 - 14:30 How science can drive policy towards mercury free ASGM	WEDNESDAY 15 NOVEMBER 13:00 - 14:30 Invitation for Comments to the Indicators for the Effectiveness Evaluation	NOVEMBER THE TIC Consultation with Parties on gender action plan (closed)
		WEDNESDAY 7 DECEMBER 14:00 - 15:00 Health risk communication

MERCURY SCIENCE